

About Rimage.

As a photography company, we photograph products, people and places, in our studios (near Jin An Temple), and also on-location, in China and Asiawide. Our expert teams consisting of experienced photographers, competent producers, skilled retouchers and creative art directors manage all aspects of a photo shooting and ensure that everything important is thought and taken care of.

After the photography, we offer following value-added services: retouching, graphic design and print management. By this, clients can get a lot more than photography from us, for example we retouch and beautify photographs, design and produce catalogues and adapt packaging designs.

We focus on working with manufacturing, trading and retail companies which produce, source or distribute products in China or Asia. Our clients are marketing-driven organization who value high-quality photographs in their marketing material.

Our vision is to become the first choice for clients when choosing a global photography company.

To achieve this goal, we are looking for ..
